C. L. FAENCH, late of this city, has been appointed receiver of the Mount-peller Co-operative Store.

MCCORMICK & Co. yesterday received one car Hams, bullion $3,000; Cress-cats, $2,500. Total, $5,500.

NED WALLIN was bustling around yesterday, making preparations for the base ball trip to Park City on the 24th.

SALT LAKE strawberries have been selling in Butte for 35 cents a box. The Butte people demand a reduction; they ought to have it.

ALF. REBER, of the Tribune, says his reception in the settlements was less cordial this trip than when he was in the interest of THE HERALD—Southern Utah Times.

A SUBSCRIBER living in the Sixteenth Ward, wants the dog-tax collector to call around that way. He intimates that he will find plenty of use for his talents in that locality.

THE RATE per cent. of taxation for the year 1885 of city taxes was fixed by the City Council last evening at 5 mills on the dollar, or half of 1 per cent., which is the same as last year.

CHARLES WRIGHT, of Huntsville, was arrested at Ogden yesterday, charged with illegal voting. As he was indicted by the grand jury, it is safe to presume he had been voting the People's ticket.

THE DELEGATORY services of the Provo Theatre, take place this evening. It is understood a number of Salt Lake residents will be present. The first performance will be given on Tuesday evening—"The Streets of New York."

TWO HUNDRED and fifty Bee Line excursionists arrived in Denver on Friday last. A number remained over, while the majority came on towards the coast, expecting to take in Colorado's towns enroute. They will be in Salt Lake some time during the present week.

WILLIAM BERNATT was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday, on complaint of Lillie Greenwald, who charged him with stealing and carrying away a gold necklace and bracelet, one pair of gold bracelets, one gold medal, one solitary pearl ring, one gold necklace, a pair of emerald ear rings, and a plain gold ring. He will have a hearing to-day.

UNLAWFUL COHABITATION.

Thomas Porcher was the Victim Yesterday.

Thomas Porcher, who lives in the Twenty-first Ward, was arrested early yesterday morning, on the charge named above.

On being brought before Mr. McKay, the complaint was read to him. Mr. Dickson conducted the prosecution, and Judge Bennett appeared for the defense.

Robert Porcher was first called. He was a brother to the defendant, and lived in the Twelfth Ward; Ann Porcher was the defendant's wife; defendant lived at Bateville—the Twenty-first Ward; Ann Porcher was a niece of defendant; lived in the same house; did not know whether she and defendant were married; she had several children, but he believed all were dead; did not know who their father was; the house has five rooms, and all are on the ground floor; one of the rooms is used as a kitchen, the others are bedrooms.

Eliza Porcher was then brought forward, and testified that she was married to defendant and had borne several children to him; made her home at Porcher's when in the city; Ann Porcher lived at the same house; she had been married about fifteen years, and all her children were dead; she had at the same time, but had not sustained the relation of wife to defendant for the past six or seven years.

Porcher testified that he was a tin-smith and worked for David James sometimes; had a house and lot, but no other property.

He was held under $1,000 bonds, which were subsequently signed by Henry James and Charles Danglefield.

The Elk saloon.

FRANK MAY has opened the above place, and will place before the thirsty public the best quality of every kind of liquor. One Frank and his band, on the corner south of the Theatre.

What It Costs to Light the City—Numerous Reports—Various Petitions—Other Interesting Items.

James Sabine and forty-five others complained of the befouling of the stream on Fourth Street, and asked that persons be prohibited from emptying refuse matter in said ditch. Referred to the Marshal.

Z. Snow, administrator of the estate of Albert P. Rockwood, deceased, by petition stated that no settlement had been made by the city for right of way of the City Canal through the land of said estate, owing to failure of the owners to give a proper title. He asked that a committee investigate the matter and define a way out of the difficulty. Referred to the committee on canal with the city attorney associated.

Parley P. Pratt, Jr., petitioned for reimbursement in the sum of $10 for damages to the shaft of his buggy, injured through the fall of his horse caused by a defective culvert at the intersection of Second South and Second East streets. Referred to the committee on claims.

J. E. Butler asked permission to pile building material in front of his premises, Twelfth Ward market, for thirty days. Granted under the usual restrictions.

G. F. Parratt asked remission of his city taxes for 1884, being old, infirm and poor. Laid on the table, to come up in its order.

Hyrum J. Worthington asked permission to sell fruit at a stand on Main Street, free of license, being indigent and unable to perform manual labor. Granted.

Licenses were granted Frank May and California Wine Company to retail spirituous, vinous and malt liquors. Andrew S. Gray asked the usual use of a portion of the street and sidewalk in front of his premises, Ninth Ward. Granted.

The committee on finance reported that they had examined the Auditor's quarterly report, and found it to be a full, true and correct exhibit of the receipts and disbursements for the three months ending May 31, 1885, and recommending its publication. Adopted.

The committee on finance, to whom was referred the Assessor and Collector's report and accompanying assessment roll for 1885, recommended that the rate per cent. of taxation for the current year be fixed at 5 mills on the dollar; that the Assessor and Collector's compensation be fixed at $2,000 for the year; and named Tuesday, August 18th, at 4 p.m., as the time for the City Council to sit as a board of equalization to hear and determine complaints to assessed valuation and consider petitions for remission of taxes from persons entitled thereto under the law. Each recommendation of the committee was adopted.

The committee on irrigation reported that they had examined the water-master's reports on ditch and flume and Dry Canyon accounts for the quarter ending May 31st, and found them correct, and the expenditures necessarily incurred and recommended their approval and filing. Adopted.

The committee on public grounds reported that the statement of Mr. Winter of expenditures at Liberty Park for the same quarter was correct, and recommended the approval of the same and filing away. Adopted.

The committee on canal reported and recommended its bill in regard to the quarterly statement of expenditures upon the Jordan and Salt Lake City Canal. Adopted.

The committee on finance in reference to the petition of G. B. Louis and Ella Engberg for license to peddle merchandise, reported that peddling was prohibited by ordinance, and recommended, in view of the great number of applications for license to peddle, that the present ordinance on the subject be referred to the committee on municipal laws for amendment or repeal. Adopted.

A bill from the Salt Lake City Gas company was presented, as follows:

For service plus etc., furnished to 12 lamp posts..... $1,219.17
For service, lighting six months ending June 30th, 250 lamps, at 50 cents each..... 5,930.00

The Great Salt Lake.

The Utah & Nevada Railway Company has just issued a very tastefully designed folder, devoted to the most interesting and beautiful attractions of the Great Salt Lake and the health-giving advantages of bathing and rustication at Garfield and Lake Point. It is unquestionably the most complete thing in the way of a folder that the company has yet given to the public, and sets forth very fully the magnificence of the Lake as a pleasure resort, which, if situated farther east, would have long since become the popular watering place of America.

The folder was printed by THE HERALD Job department, and is a very creditable piece of artistic printing.

OUR NEW WATER SUPPLY.
Some Facts and Figures in Regard to Flowing Wells.

The Grow Brothers yesterday struck on the premises of Eldridge Tufts, corner of Third South and First East streets, a fine flowing well, one and a quarter inches in diameter, and which throws at least nine gallons of water per minute. The depth of the well is 100 feet, although a slight flow was obtained at 91 feet. The water comes with sufficient force to supply the first and second floors of Mr. Tufts' residence, is ice-cold, and of the purest quality imaginable. This makes some-where about the best water well driven during the past three months by these gentlemen, and in conversation with Mr. Leo Grow last evening, a HERALD reporter learned that they have yet to report a failure, save in one locality, where water was encountered at a depth of 140 feet, but which was accompanied by such fine quicksand as to stop up the holes in the lower end of the pipe. This was in one of the southern fields. It has been the experience of Messrs. Grow Brothers that the nearer the beach lands the wells have been driven the less the liability of the streams being interfered with by this sand.

"To what do you attribute your remarkable success in discovering these streams?" the scriber inquired.

"Simply to the use of the forked twig. This singular guide works with perfection with both of us, and as I have said before, has never yet failed."

"Did you ever drive a well without first using the twig?"

"No, sir, and never would. If I were not absolutely certain that the water was there, it would be worse than foolishness to commence driving."

"By the use of this stick, or otherwise, can the depth of the stream be ascertained?"

"We have generally found," said Mr. Grow, "that with us the twig turns once for every five feet. For instance, if when we drove a stream the forked twig turns ten times, we are certain of striking water at fifty feet or thereabouts. It is seldom that any variation occurs over eight feet either way."

"In what localities have you had the most success?"

"Our greatest success with these wells has been in the Nineteenth and Sixteenth Wards, in which localities there are about thirty sending out good streams at present, and nearly all of them on the increase."

"You drove the well for Mr. John Beck at the Hot Springs, did you not?"

"Yes, and Mr. Beck is so well satisfied with the result of the experiment that he has concluded to have several more driven immediately, on which we will commence work next week. There are now in the city between thirty-five and forty wells, all so far as I know, with the exception of two—Siddoway's and Tufts'—situated on the west side of Main Street. We commence to-morrow morning on one at Eber Case's, on South East Street."

The facts above enumerated by Mr. Grow are such as to cause a feeling of satisfaction to every resident of the city, and the benefit to the country of these wealth producers can scarcely be estimated.

The Twenty-Fourth.

Washington Square will present more than its usual attractions on Friday, according to the announcement of the Athletic association this morning.

"Tug of War" or deciding races, will be run by the several bicycle classes, while the Stars and Clippers will contest for the town championship on the diamond. The Stars have vanquished every nine that has entered the field against them this season, and only await the return of the Reds to put in a final claim for the town championship. The Clippers like the Stars, have several well known players in their team who have played on Olympic and other nines, in the past, and will, it is thought, make a very interesting game with their opponents on Friday. The Association claims that the exercises on the Twenty-Fourth will not fall short in any respect of the usual interesting holiday programmes.

The Funeral.

The funeral of little Willie Cummings was held on Tuesday, the services being conducted at the residence of Bishop Clawson, in the Twelfth Ward, in the presence of the family and a few close friends. The opening prayer was offered by Elder H. Bruce, when brief consolatory addresses were delivered by Bishop John Sharp, Elder John J. Calne and Dr. Benedict. The cortege which followed the remains to the grave was a quartette sang and Mr. Caine pronounced the benediction. There is deep and heartfelt sympathy throughout the community for the bereaved parents and relatives of little Willie.

HITTING THE PIPE.

One of the Chinese Doctors Adjudged Guilty as Charged.

The case of Dr. Soo Soo Lung Kee, one of the Chinamen recently arrested charged with keeping opium joints, came up in the Police court yesterday. The gentleman from China, with the supposable name, not being able to speak English to the satisfaction of the prosecuting attorney, the services of an interpreter were secured.

The first witness was Officer Burt, who testified that he made the arrest of the doctor at his den on Commercial Street, went in at the back door; there was a white man in the act of lighting an opium pipe; he arrested this man and also the doctor, when the customer requested a few minutes time to finish the smoke, which was granted him. A card containing opium, and from which the smoker was obtaining the supply for his pipe, was offered in evidence, and recognized as being found in the den at the time of the arrests.

Robert Brady, a night watchman, was also put upon the stand by the prosecution. His testimony corroborated that of Burt, he being present at the time of the arrests.

John F. Spencer, the inmate of the point at the time of the raid, testified that he was in the den on Thursday evening last; that he gave the doctor 25 cents and asked him to get some opium for him; the Chinaman did so, and also allowed him to lie down on the bunk and smoke it. There were two rooms in the building—one a doctor's shop and the other a bunk room, where opium was smoked. When he entered the shop the proprietor asked him what he wanted. He replied that he wanted opium. The Chinaman asked how much and Spencer told him 25 cents worth. Witness then handed defendant the money, and he disappeared and returned in a few minutes with some on a card. Witness took the drug, borrowed the pipe, laid down, and had been smoking a few moments when the officer came in.

Ah Soo, with an innocent, far-away look in his eyes, testified through an interpreter that a man came in and asked for medicine, saying he was sick, and opium would cure him. The doctor told him he did not have any opium, but would give him some medicine if he was ill. On being asked to explain how the opium came to be on the card, Ah Soo claimed the card belonged to the doctor—that the latter smoked opium himself, but had never sold any, and would not do so for any amount of money. The doctor bought the opium from a Chinaman, and when the white man came in, he grabbed the pipe from him, and being a little weak in the shoulder, was unable to prevent him from using it. Ah Soo failed to explain, however, how it was that both the doctor and his customer were quietly lying down when the policeman entered, and at the same time the "eminent physician" should have taken notice from Spencer. It was also difficult for a Caucasian intellect to understand why Ah Soo should possess all this information, when there was no one in the building, but the doctor and his patient.

During the testimony the doctor sat an attentive listener, and frequently attempted to prompt the witness, but was frequently rebuffed, and asked to keep quiet. When he took the stand he gave a similar story, and at the conclusion of his testimony, was adjudged guilty. Sentence was deferred until to-day, when the other cases are expected to come up.

The Twenty-Fourth at the Lake.

The energetic proprietors of Lake Point and Garfield have made and are making extensive preparations for a vast concourse of pleasure seekers at the lake on the 24th, Friday next. They herald it forth this morning as "The Event of the Season." Among the numerous attractions of the day will be a grand steamboat race between the Salt River and Whiteland, the course extending from Garfield to Lake Point. This will be the first affair of the kind ever occurring on Salt Lake waters. At Garfield, the usual sports will be indulged in—rowing race, long distance diving match, gentlemen's swimming race, etc. The Salt River connects with each train; the Sixth and Ward Band will furnish the music during the day and evening for dancing.

At Lake Point, a running horse race, free to all—in which the fastest horses of Tooele County will participate, jumping matches, swimming matches, boat races, etc. The Whiteland will make trips during the day. A grand band will furnish music for dancing during the day and night, and at dusk the usual display of fireworks.

Five trains will run each way as follows: Leaving Salt Lake City at 8:40 and 9:40 a. m., 1:10, 5:10 and 9 p. m., and returning at Salt Lake at 12:35, 3:30, 5:45, 8:30 and 11:40 p. m.

From Pleasant Grove.

Henry Nelson died at Pleasant Grove Sunday night. The gentleman was brought from Salt Lake per morning train and expired the same evening. Mr. Nelson had been under the care of the Decker Hospital for the last few days, but all human efforts proved unavailing, as his disease (pneumonia) had done its work. Mr. Nelson was a carpenter by trade and an excellent musician. He leaves a family. His age is about 50 years.

Thos. Norden, an old resident of Pleasant Grove, died Sunday afternoon at his residence. Mr. Norden was a native of England and had arrived a ripe old age, three score and ten. He leaves a large posterity and was greatly respected in the community.

Shanghinessy.

"Mike" Shanghinessy, late carpet bag U. S. Marshal of Mississippi, is in trouble again, but this time he got the worst of it. While in Mississippi in 1875 his books did not balance, and he drifted out to Utah, of which territory another corrupt Administration had made him Marshal. By expert book-keeping and a little official book-doing, he got possession of a name which yielded $200,000. He went to New York to "cash" a note, and met a broker who could give him a few points in book-keeping. He now says the broker for $135,000—Salt Lake Tribune Morning Hour.

Fuller's Hill.

The energetic proprietor of this well known pleasure resort has an announcement in THE HERALD this morning. Besides the usual attractions on Pioneer Day, there will be a variety of outdoor sports and an exhibition of Japanese day fireworks, the first ever brought to Utah. These will be set off during the afternoon with a dozen balloons. There will also be fireworks and a social dancing party in the evening.

COUNTY CONVENTIONS.
Reports of Nominations in Utah and Summit.

UTAH COUNTY.
Provo, Utah, July 20, 1885.

The Utah County Convention of the People's Party met at Provo City, on Saturday, July 18th.

Wm. M. Bromley, of American Fork was elected permanent chairman, John C. Graham Secretary, John Woodhouse Chaplain, John W. Turner, Sergeant-at-arms.

Thirty-six delegates presented credentials and the convention proceeded to business.

A. D. Holaway was put in nomination for Selectman and received a unanimous vote.

James E. Daniels, for County Recorder, went in without a dissenting voice, as also did George H. Brimhall, as Superintendent of Common Schools.

Wilson H. Dunsberry was chosen Chairman, and John C. Graham, Secretary for the Central committee of the People's Party of Utah County, after which the convention resolved itself into a district body, including Utah and Juab Counties.

A letter was read from the chairman of the Juab division, setting forth their desires and recommending the name of Joel Grover as a councillor to the Legislature Assembly. The letter was accepted and the nomination of Hon. Joel Grover was carried.

Quite a lively skirmish ensued as a result the following named gentlemen received the majority of votes. Jonathan L. Page, Councillor.

Wm. Green, S. R. Thurman, F. J. McCullough, W. C. A. Smoot, Jr., Representatives.

We would have stated that Wilson S. Dunsberry was elected to fill the office of Representative but the gentleman sent in a letter declining the nomination and W. C. A. Smoot, Jr. was selected in his stead.

SUMMIT COUNTY.

The Council District Convention consisting of Summit, Morgan, Wasatch and Uintah Counties, met at the Court House, Coalville, Summit County, at 2 o'clock p. m., July 18th, 1885.

A temporary organization was effected by electing Ward E. Pack, chairman and S. Francis as secretary.

A committee on credentials was appointed; said committee reported three delegates from Summit County and two from Morgan County, present entitled to seats in the convention. No delegates present from Wasatch and Uintah Counties.

On motion the temporary organization was made permanent and the convention took a recess till 3 o'clock expecting the arrival of the delegates from Wasatch and Uintah. At 3 o'clock the missing delegates not having arrived the convention proceeded to the nomination of councillors.

S. Francis, of Morgan County, as unanimously nominated for councillor.

The convention made a redistribution of delegates for the next Convention, giving 3 to Summit County three, Wasatch and Uintah counties three, and Morgan County two.

Adjourned, sine die.

A BASEBALL BATTLE.

An Exciting Game on the Diamond Field To-morrow.

To-morrow, being Sunday at 3 o'clock, the employees of THE HERALD and TRIBUNE will meet on the diamond field and contest for the supremacy in a friendly game of baseball. It will be an occasion most of the players will remember, as being the first time they have been out doors for a year or more. In the excitement which will be attendant on the game, the umpire will be asked, when asking what kind of a ball, with "Double-headed." Should the sphere be struck by any of the eighteen, the striker will consider himself as having struck a fat lake, and should he further continue successful and make a run, he will feel proud enough to give away his next week's "strings." Several of the aspirants for honors, whose tender fingers and thick-skinned hands have touched nothing harder than a stick of mastic for twelve long, hot, summer days, will grow weary with the bat and hawl for reprint in preference to running the bases under a July the 23rd sun. The errors, made will probably be so numerous that they can't be marked on the margin. The assisting will be done after the familiar "Who was a help is determined. Should the report be circulated that all hands got out on strikes, he public will on a stand that it is not for more than 50 cents a thousand. Copy will be short and "cents" frequent. All his made will undoubtedly be base ones, and every player will make a home run at the end of the great interest is being manifested by our city, and no doubt considerable money will be gained on the result, which will be the fingers of the camps on both papers will be all thumbs, or thirteen spaces will weigh sixteen ounces to the pound the night of the victory or defeat.

We, Us & Co.

The attendance at the Theatre last evening was lighter, if possible, than the night before. The painful lack of spirit on the part of the performers showed that the fact had not escaped their notice, but the arrangements created were sufficient to make the audience almost forget it. With this exception, the only change from last evening's performance was the introduction of one or two vocal solos not rendered before. To-night will close the Metastasey company's engagement, one more successful in an artistic than a financial sense, though certainly deserving of a better fate. But when a circus fails to draw in Salt Lake, as has been the case this season, nothing better need be expected—though we blush to say it—for a performance such as the one we are noticing. There will be no matinee this afternoon, as originally intended.

It will pay you to call at Auerbach & Bros. Mammoth Establishment before buying. They are bound to live up to their motto—Auerbach's are never undersold.
